'Tis the Season for Family and Friends

Seasons Greetings to all our Loyal Customers and Very Dear Friends:

Another year is nearly completed, and the holiday season is now upon us. It's time to bring our focus to family, and to rekindle old friendships.

Also, this is the time for reflection of past events, acknowledgement of completed activities, and for the creation of plans for action leading to future successes. It's also the time to remind you how very much we appreciate your support of our company today, and that we're looking forward to a very strong and exciting tomorrow with your continued support.

In preparation for the next season, Billiou's has made several extensive investments in business technology, additional personnel, in-depth staff training, and the acquisition of several new and exciting product lines that will bring additional profits to our dealers. And this is just the tip of the iceberg, a small preview of good things to come over the next several months.

Yes, many things are happening for which we are thankful, and it is our continuing privilege to serve you now and throughout the tomorrows to come.

On behalf of all the personnel at Billiou's, we wish you the happiest things the season may offer and the most prosperous of relationships for many, many years.

Happy Holidays,

John Billiou
President

Humor Is, As Humor Does

You Might Be A Scrooge If...

You turn on the lawn sprinklers on Christmas Eve to keep carolers away.

You buy all of your Christmas gifts at a store that also sells gasoline.

Your favorite version of "Babes in Toyland" stars Michael Jackson.

You get your Christmas Tree from a vacant rest stop at night.

Your idea of Christmas dinner is a six pack of beer and a cheese log.

Your only contact with three spirits on Christmas Eve is gin, brandy, and bourbon.

You use your Christmas Club money to buy wrestling tickets.

Your favorite Christmas tradition involves a bonfire and reindeer meat.

Your favorite pass-time is putting defective bulbs in your neighbors' string of Christmas lights or defacing Christmas lawn caricatures with eggnog.

You serve TV dinners on Christmas Day.

Your Christmas cards are made on a Xerox machine.

Your Christmas ornaments are all made from used tin foil.

You give the same Christmas presents this year you received last year.

You use old newspapers for wrapping gifts.

Your only holiday decoration is a rotting pumpkin.

The best of all gifts around any Christmas tree: the presence of a happy family
all wrapped up in each other.
